

Bloomberg Relay 2009

Last month, Rexiter participated in the third annual Bloomberg Square Mile Relay.

The annual relay brings together some of London's fittest... and some 'not so fit'... professionals from companies around the city who each run a 1 mile circuit through the heart of the city.

The event this year included some of the city's largest financial services providers. There were 77 teams in total with Barclay's Capital taking first place.

Whilst Rexiter's team of runners were not able to take the podium at the end of the race, the evening was enjoyable for all who attended and provided us with the opportunity to participate in an event which was not only great fun, but contributed to charities in need.
